ARRANGING TRIAL OF ALLEGED CONSPIRATORS

Counsel of International Iron Workers Has Charge of Case Until Arrival of Clarence Darrow in Los Angeles.

By Associated Press.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., May 1.—Unless otherwise decided by Attorney Lee Rappaport, counsel for the International Iron Workers, who arrived here tonight, there will be no motions for a change of venue in the dynamite conspiracy case, or any other technical delays in the trials of the McNamaras. Labor leaders interested in the defense of the McNamara brothers are so engrossed in the strike of the carpenters of Los Angeles that they gave little attention to the dynamite case, but Andrew Gallagher, secretary of the San Francisco Labor Council, said that Attorney Rappaport will be given charge of the case until the arrival of Clarence Darrow, this week.

"There is no question but what Darrow will be here," said Gallagher, "to take the position of chief counsel for the defense."

Gallagher also said that while there was no immediate prospect of a general strike in Los Angeles, one might be declared at any time. "Such a move, however, will have no connection with the dynamite case," he said.

No one visited the McNamaras today. District Attorney Fredericks said positively that no one would be allowed to see McManigal, the author of the alleged confession, until he testifies against the McNamaras.

Judge George H. Hutton today became presiding judge of the Los Angeles County Superior Court, and will select the judge who will try the McNamaras.

Fredericks favors Judge Willis, because his court is in the criminal building, easy of access across the "Bridge of Sighs," eliminating a trip through the streets. However, there is no indication, as yet, who will be selected.

Arrangements have been made for Rappaport and Gallagher to interview the McNamaras tomorrow morning. No further effort will be made by anyone to see McManigal.

Identified by Finger Prints.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., May 1.—The prints of the thumbs and fingers of James B. McNamara are to be taken to further identify him as J. B. Bryce. The prints were found on the launch, Pastime, on which, it is alleged, he carried the explosives.

ANOTHER OHIO PROBE.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, May 1.—The Franklin county grand jury, which meets tomorrow, will hear testimony relative to the alleged bribery in the Ohio General Assembly. Detectives who laid the plot to catch the legislators make the prediction that a score or more Assemblymen will be involved before the jury ends its work. A legislative investigation was headed by Governor Harmon and others, who insist that no immunity bath will be given members by the Assembly committee.

BANGOR FIRE LOSS THREE MILLIONS

City Will Not Ask Outside Aid as Most Losers Are Wealthy

By Associated Press.

BANGOR, Me., May 1.—Between two and a half and three million dollars will cover the loss by fire which destroyed 285 homes and 100 business buildings, last night and early today. The insurance agencies place their loss at 60 per cent, or a million and a half dollars.

The city will not ask outside aid. Most of the losers are wealthy and but seventy-five families are destitute.

A search of the ruins has revealed but two dead. Only a few were injured.

Troops patrol the streets, and have orders to shoot looters. The city is dark tonight.

FEELING OF APPREHENSION OF THE REBELS INCREASING IN MEXICO CITY

Durango Reported Captured, Other Capitals Are Threatened, Fighting is in Progress At Barras, and Madero is Awaiting News From His Chiefs Operating Near Monterey.

By Associated Press.

CITY OF MEXICO, May 1.—There is an unconfirmed rumor here that Durango, state of Durango, has been taken by the rebels, and that attacks are to be made on Cuernavaca, state of Puebla, and two other capitals, which has served to increase the feeling of apprehension in the City of Mexico.

Many bridges were blown up last night on the Mexican Central and Mexican National railroads, which has seriously interfered with traffic between here and Laredo.

The news that Durango was taken was contained in a letter from Torreon, received here today. The letter states that Luis Moya, rebel leader, with a thousand men, is marching on Torreon to make that city his headquarters.

The announcement that the rebel General Figueroa would march on the City of Mexico was followed by rumors that the city is in imminent danger. This is not the case, but a wide area extending almost to the city is infested with rebels, who number almost 5,000.

An afternoon paper made the startling announcement that 20,000 rebels are moving on the capital.

Madero Modifies Demands.

EL PASO, Texas, May 1.—Coincident with the advice today from the rebel leaders at Conahuila, telling Madero of activity there, especially near Monterey, an appeal was received by Madero from the citizens of Monterey, requesting an extension of the armistice zone to that section. Madero will await advice from his chiefs as to their positions before he makes a reply. Madero's advice read: "Railway at Gomez, Palacio, Colonias, Lerdo and San Pedro are in the hands of the revolutionists."

"Hard fighting is in progress at Barras, starting Thursday. One thousand rebels are engaging 600 federalists, and Pablo Sanchez, with 300 men is marching on Monterey."

The rebel peace commissioners had a conference lasting several hours, with political leaders of the revolutionists.

The program to be presented by Senor Carabajal, federal commissioner, is the subject of much discussion. Carabajal was expected tonight, but failed to arrive.

Madero's plans have been somewhat changed. The question of the method of selection of provisional governors for several states has been given close attention, but the exact number of states the revolutionists determine the right to name governors for have not been agreed upon. He will make it plain, however, to Carabajal, that they do not wish to place men in power who have taken an active part in the rebellion.

He will favor capable men who are in sympathy with the insurgents, and yet popular enough to tranquilize their states. Madero is to insist, however, that the governors be natives of their states and that after the expiration of their terms a free election will ensue.

According to the rebel program, after the provisional governors are selected and the election laws revised, there shall be a general election called to elect a president of the republic.

The exact time of Diaz' tenure will be avoided, because Madero believes that he will resign after peace is declared.

It has been agreed, however, that the selection of a provisional president for the interim, will not interfere with reforms in the various states. Senor De la Barra, the present foreign minister, is the professed favorite of the revolutionists for provisional president.

A complete change in the political administration is desired by Madero's program now being drafted, and there is good ground to believe the government has already given assurances of its acceptability to some of the rebel demands.

Siege of Ojinaga Raised.

SAN ANTONIO, Texas, May 1.—The siege of Ojinaga has been raised and the rebels driven toward Mulato, according to government reports received here tonight.

DOUGLAS, Ariz., May 1.—That he will hold his men, numbering 711, under arms till he hears that peace has been proclaimed, was the statement of the rebel chief, Giron, in Douglas today. He left for the mountains tonight.

Many rebel bands of Sonora are ignorant of peace negotiations. At Campas, an American deserted and robbed three Chinese stores. He left, and boasted that on his return he would rob more. On the edge of the city he met ten armed men. The deserter was killed, also three prominent Mexican citizens.

Pennsylvania Shopmen Strike

By Associated Press.

PITTSBURG, Pa., May 1.—Without warning, other than a conference with the officials a week ago, the shop men of the Pennsylvania railroad struck today on the Pittsburgh division. The union claims that 10,000 men are out. The cause is said to be the railroad's retrenchment, and the dismissal of men active in union affairs. The company officials deny so many men are out. There is no disorder.

CARPENTERS OF LOS ANGELES ON STRIKE

By Associated Press.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., May 1.—Union carpenters were ordered out on strike today, on a demand for $4.

"We are not asking anything except $4 a day," said James A. Gray, organizer.

All supplies are seized en route, and line-men stringing power wires from El Tigre to the smelter at Douglas, have quit work, saying the lines are cut as fast as they are put up.
